3-24, Kanda-Nishikicho, Chiyoda-ku,
Tokyo 101-8449, Japan

City of Kyoto

Kyoto was the capital of Japan for over 1000 years, and therefore was the focus of political, cultural, and religious activities. UNESCO has designated seventeen separate sites within Kyoto prefecture as World Cultural Heritage Sites, or Kyoto was also the home to the headquarters for many sects of Buddhism, leading to the construction of grand temples and convents. Cultural treasures coexist with modern convenience in this amazing city.

Climate (in November)

You need lightweight jackets & sweaters. Autumn is another beautiful season for viewing the deep red foliage of the Japanese maple.

Venue

Kyoto International Conference Hall

The conference will be held at the Kyoto International Conference Hall (KICH). It is located in a wooded area in the northern part of the city, which is easily accessible by subway from the city center.

Symposium History

The International Symposium on Supercritical Fluids (ISSF) has been held to provide a forum for the interchange of the most recent information on supercritical fluids technology. Past meetings have been held in Nice, France (1988), Boston, USA (1991), Strasbourg, France (1994), Sendai, Japan (1997), Versailles, France (2003), and Orlando, USA (2005).

To initiate the theme for the 8th ISSF: "Towards a New Phase", the Symposium will feature a wide scope of supercritical fluids topics with plenary lectures, oral presentations, poster sessions, and exhibition.

Organizing Chairs

Motonobu Goto	Kumamoto Univ., Japan
Tadafumi Adschiri	Tohoku Univ., Japan
Buxing Han	Chinese Academy of Science, China
Youn-Woo Lee	Seoul National Univ., Korea

Topics

Thermodynamics & Phase equilibria
 Transport properties
 Extraction & Fractionation
 Chromatography
 Material processing
 Solvothermal and hydrothermal process
 Pharmaceuticals and Nutraceuticals
 Reactions
 Catalysis
 Polymers
 Nanotechnology
 Biotechnology Environmental
 Microelectronics

Registration Fee

Early Registration: (on or before September 1, 2006)	55,000 JPY
Late Registration:	60,000 JPY
Student:	30,000 JPY
